Aircraft seat manufacturer supports the Children's Fund

Recaro Aircraft Seating donates to Unicef

Schwaebisch Hall, Germany. Recaro Aircraft Seating supports Unicef, the United Nations Children's Fund, with a donation of 10,000 Euros. The company presented a check to Unicef representative Eric Mayer in Schwaebisch Hall on October 11, 2011.

"Together for Children – in line with this theme, Unicef works with partners around the globe to support the rights of each individual child. We sincerely thank Recaro Aircraft Seating for helping to make this possible," said Eric Mayer, Head of the Corporate Partnerships and Major Donor department in the Unicef Fundraising division. Mayer accepted the check from CEO Axel Kahsnitz and CFO Andreas Lindemann at Recaro Aircraft Seating headquarters in Schwaebisch Hall.

"Unicef is a well-known organization committed to society worldwide – and this is what convinced us," Kahsnitz explained. Recaro Aircraft Seating coupled the financial contribution to a recently completed customer satisfaction survey in which the company received numerous responses. For each questionnaire completed, the aircraft seat manufacturer agreed to donate a specific amount of money to the Children's Fund. "We were very pleased to see that this generated a substantial sum for Unicef," said Kahsnitz. "In the face of the current hunger crisis in East Africa, we decided to double the amount to a total of 10,000 Euros.”

Recaro Aircraft Seating is a globally active developer and manufacturer of aircraft seats for the leading airlines worldwide. The company currently has 1,500 employees, including more than 700 working in Germany, and operates production plants in Germany, Poland, South Africa and the USA. Recaro Aircraft Seating has also Recaro Service Centers in Europe, the Middle East, America, Asia and Australia. Based in Schwaebisch Hall, Germany, Recaro Aircraft Seating generated sales of 288 million Euros in 2010. The company ranks among the world's top three aircraft seat manufacturers.
